1st edition of RVW was organized in Oct'2023 with a theme "Accelerate Digital Transformation Through Simulation", having witnessed huge gatherings of automotive technocrats, keynote presentations on futuristic topics by the renowned experts world-over, panel discussion by industry leaders and huge delegate participation, etc., besides participation in the Exposition. The event concluded on a high note.

Theme: Embrace The Power Of Simulation For Engineering Excellence

In the realm of engineering, simulation acts as a digital playground where engineers can experiment, iterate, and refine their designs before they manifest physically. Mathematical models and algorithms simulate real-world physics, allowing engineers to predict behavior accurately.

This process eliminates the need for costly physical prototypes, leading to significant cost savings. Moreover, it enhances accuracy, as engineers can fine-tune designs with precision, minimizing errors. By embracing simulation, engineers unlock the power of rapid validation, iteration, and optimization, ultimately driving engineering excellence and innovation.

Who Should Attend

- OEMs, Component Manufacturers, Technology Partners & Software Developers
- CAE Experts, R&D Professionals and Design Engineers
- Scientists, Researchers & Academia
- Automotive Industry Analysts & Consulting Firms
- Design and technology services
